United States Department of State

United States Chiefs of Mission 1778 - 1982

INTRODUCTION TO THE SECOND EDITION

This volume is a new edition of Department of State Publication 8738, United States Chiefs of Mission, 1778-1973, by Richardson Dougall and Mary Patricia Chapman. It maintains the format of the original, incorporates a supplement, United States Chiefs of Mission, 1973-1974, and includes appointments and nominations through 31 March 1982.

Dates of appointment after 31 December 1974 were obtained from the Presidential Commissions Unit, Presidential Appointments Staff, Office of the Director General of the Foreign Service. Dates of presentation of credentials and termination of missions were gathered from various sources within the Department. Records of the Office of the Historian were supplemented by the resources of the Foreign Affairs Information Management Center and the Bureau of Personnel.

Evan M. Duncan, compiler of the second edition, wishes to acknowledge the guidance, encouragement, and support that he received from David F. Trask, former Historian of the Department, and from Neal H. Petersen, Adviser on Research. Nina J. Neve labored diligently to incorporate old and new material. Special thanks are due to Sandra F. Sheskin of the Presidential Commissions Unit, Jeanne M. Hassan of the Foreign Affairs Information Management Center, and to all the Department of State personnel in Washington and overseas who supplied information about changes in Chiefs of Mission since 1974. Publication arrangements were made by the Publishing Services Division, Paul M. Washington, Chief.

[1]Rodney was commissioned as MP at Buenos Aires; Forbes as Chargé d'Affaires near the Government of Buenos Aires. Baylies and Brent were commissioned to the Republic of Buenos Aires; Harris, to the Argentine Confederation; Pendleton, to the Argentine Republic; and Bissell, near the Government of Buenos Aires. With respect to Peden, see note 6 below. Representatives from Lamar to Kirk (first appointment) were commissioned to the Argentine Confederation; those from Asboth to Carter, to the Argentine Republic. Representatives from Garrett to date have been commissioned to Argentina.
[2]Formally recognized on this date.
[3]Not commissioned; nomination (which had been submitted by error) withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it.
[4]Not commissioned; nomination rejected by the Senate.
[5]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate; declined appointment.

[6]Commissioned as Chargé d'Affaires to the Republic of Buenos Aires, but did not proceed to post in this capacity. Nominated 25 Feb. 1856 to be EE/MP to the Argentine Confederation; nomination withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it. The dates given on the second line are for Peden's service as MR to the Republic of Buenos Aires; those in brackets on the third line relate to his service as MR to the Argentine Confederation, with its capital at Paraná. Although Peden was not commissioned as MR to the Argentine Confederation until 1856, he had been given letters of credence dated 1 July 1854 to both Buenos Aires and the Confederation and had presented his credentials at Paraná before proceeding to Buenos Aires. Peden resided at Buenos Aires until about 1 May 1857, when he closed the Legation at that city and moved to Paraná, where the U.S. Legation to the Argentine Confederation remained established until Palmer returned it to Buenos Aires, 25 Feb. 1862, following reunification of the country.
[7]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate; did not serve under this appointment.
[8]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate.
[9]Accredited also to Uruguay; resident at Buenos Aires.
[10]Not commissioned; nomination not confirmed by the Senate.
[11]Took oath of office, but did not proceed to post.
[12]Did not serve under this appointment.
[13]Nominated 17 July 1953 to be AE/P to Argentina; nomination withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it; renominated in 1956.

[1]Representatives from Everett to McConaughy were commissioned to China; Unger to the Republic of China; Woodcock and Hummel to the People's Republic of China. Rankin through Unger were resident at Taipei.
[2]Declined appointment.
[3]Issued two separate commissions during a recess of the Senate, one as Commissioner and one as EE/MP; after confirmation, recommissioned as Commissioner only.
[4]Presentation of credentials to the Chief of State upon arrival did not become the normal procedure for U.S. diplomatic representatives in China until 1898. The dates in brackets in this column represent establishment of an official relationship with appropriate Chinese authorities, not necessarily including communication to them of a letter of credence.
[5]Nominated 26 Feb. 1845 to be EE/MP; the Senate did not confirm this nomination.
[6]Peter Parker served as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim, May 1850-July 1853.
[7]Did not proceed to post.
[8]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate.
[9]Took oath of office, but did not proceed to post.
[10]Took oath of office, but did not proceed to post, the Government of China having objected to his appointment.
[11]Took oath of office under recess appointment, but did not proceed to post; nomination of 5 Jan. 1898 was withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it.

China--continued

[12]Karl L. Rankin served as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim, Aug. 1950-Apr. 1953.
[13]Resident at Taipei.
[14]The U.S. established diplomatic relations with the Peoples' Republic of China, and terminated them with the Republic of China, on 1 Jan. 1979. Embassy Taipei closed Feb. 28, 1979.

[1]Representatives from Anderson to Moore were commissioned to Colombia (i.e. "Gran Colombia", which separated into the states of Ecuador, New Granada, and Venezuela). Representatives from McAfee to Jones were commissioned to New Granada. With respect to Burton, see note 8 below. Representatives from Sullivan to date have been accredited to Colombia.
[2]No report has been found concerning Watts' presentation of credentials as Chargé d'Affaires en titre; he had been serving at Bogota as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim since June 1826.
[3]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate.
[4]Not commissioned; nomination withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it.
[5]Did not serve in this capacity.
[6]Nominated 25 Feb. 1856 to be EE/MP; nomination withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it.
[7]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate, but seems not to have served under this appointment.
[8]Burton did not present credentials addressed in 1861 to the President of the Granadian Confederacy, but eventually did present credentials addressed in 1863 to the President of the United States of Colombia.
[9]Not commissioned; nomination not confirmed by the Senate.
[10]Declined appointment.

[1]Commissioned also to Great Britain (see under United Kingdom); resident at London after 1785. Adams also received a second set of instructions dated 16 Aug. 1781.
[2]Formally recognized on this date.
[3]Adams, before leaving The Hague at the end of his longest period of residence there, had presented Charles W.F. Dumas as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim on 15 Oct. 1782. Dumas, although holding no commission from the United States, continued to act in this capacity, except during Adams' later visits to the Netherlands, until 1790.
[4]Elected 23 June 1785 to be MP to the United Netherlands; declined appointment.
[5]Elected 5 July 1785 to be MP to the United Netherlands; declined appointment.
[6]Continued to serve, without reaccreditation, after the proclamation of the Batavian Republic.
[7]Commissioned to the Batavian Republic.
[8]Formally received on this date.
[9]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate.
[10]Nominated 11 Dec. 1828 to be EE/MP; nomination tabled by the Senate.
[11]Commission not of record, but enclosed with an instruction of this date.
[12]The record copy is so dated, but the date is probably erroneous, as the Senate confirmed Folsom's nomination on 14 May 1850.
[13]Nominated 25 Feb. 1856 to be EE/MP; nomination withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it.
[14]Declined appointment.
[15]Not commissioned; letter of credence dated 29 Sept. 1866.
[16]Not commissioned; nomination withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it.
[17]Took oath of office, but did not proceed to post.
[18]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate to the Netherlands and Luxembourg; resident at The Hague.
[19]Commissioned to the Netherlands and Luxembourg; resident at The Hague.
[20]Accredited also to Luxembourg; resident at The Hague.

Netherlands--continued

[21]Commissioned to the Netherlands and Luxembourg; did not serve under this appointment.
[22]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate to the Netherlands only.
[23]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate; did not serve under this appointment.
[24]Gordon closed the Legation, 15 July 1940, and left post, 16 July 1940. Rudolf E. Schoenfeld established the Legation near the Government of the Netherlands established in England, making his initial call as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim on 15 Aug. 1940.
[25]Served near the Government of the Netherlands established in England; commissioned also to Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Luxembourg, Norway, Poland, and Yugoslavia; resident at London.
[26]Formally received, and the Legation raised to Embassy status, on this date.
[27]Served near the Government of the Netherlands established in England; resident first at London; transferred the Embassy to the Hague, 17 Aug. 1945. The office of the Embassy at London was closed, 19 Sept. 1945.

[1]Proceeded to post, but was not formally received at court; left post about 20 May 1782.
[2]No report has been found concerning Carmichael's presentation of credentials as Chargé d'Affaires en titre; he had been received as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim, 20 Feb. 1783.
[3]Commissioned during a recess of the senate.
[4]George W. Erving served as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim, Oct. 1805-Feb. 1810.
[5]Did not proceed to post.
[6]Nomination confirmed by the Senate, 3 Oct. 1814; commission following confirmation not of record.
[7]Took oath of office, but died en route to post.
[8]No report has been found of presentation of credentials, which probably took place about 1 Feb. 1837.
[9]Declined appointment.
[10]Not commissioned; nomination tabled by the Senate.
[11]Woodford left post, 21 Apr. 1898; the U.S. declared war on Spain as of that date by Act of Congress approved 25 Apr. 1898.
[12]Took oath of office, but did not proceed to post under this appointment.
[13]Bowers had been resident during the last part of his Ambassadorship at St. Jean de Luz in France; he left that post, 14 June 1939, his appointment having terminated 14 May 1939. The Embassy had meanwhile been reestablished in Spain on 13 Apr. 1939, when H. Freeman Matthews had been received at Burgos as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim.
[14]During the period 1945-1951 each of the following officers served as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim for more than a year: Philip W. Bonsal, Mar. 1946-June 1947; Paul T. Culbertson, June 1947-Dec. 1950.
[15]Not commissioned; nomination withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it.
[16]Not commissioned; nomination of 17 Sept. 1974 was not acted upon by the Senate.

[1]Representatives at London have been commissioned as follows: John Adams, to the court of Great Britain; those from Thomas Pinckney to William Pinkney, at the court of His Britannic Majesty; John Q. Adams, at the court of the Prince Regent of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; those from Rush to Buchanan, at the court of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; Dallas, to Her Britannic Majesty; those from Charles Francis Adams to Motley, to England; Frelinghuysen and Morton, to London; those from Schenck to date, to Great Britain.
[2]Accredited also to the Netherlands.
[3]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate.
[4]Originally commissioned as MP at the court of His Britannic Majesty and given a letter of credence as such, 12 May 1806--on the same day that he and Monroe were accredited jointly as Commissioners Plenipotentiary and Extraordinary on a special mission. When Monroe was preparing to leave London, he informed the Foreign Secretary that Pinkney would succeed him in the ordinary duties of the Legation; the British authorities declined to accept Pinkney's 1806 letter of credence, but dealt with him informally until he was recommissioned and reaccredited.
[5]Commission (issued during a recess of the Senate) not of record, but enclosed with an instruction of this date.
[6]Month and day not included on record copy of commission, which was issued during a recess of the Senate.
[7]Nomination later rejected by the Senate.
[8]No report has been found concerning Vail's presentation of credentials as Chargé d'Affaires en titre; he had been received as Chargé d'Affaires ad interim on 4 Apr. 1832.
[9]Nomination of 20 May 1834 rejected by the Senate; nomination of 1 Feb. 1836 confirmed.
[10]Not commissioned; nomination rejected by the Senate.
[11]Declined appointment.
[12]Took oath of office, but died in the U.S. before proceeding to post.
[13]A commission signed by the President during a recess of the Senate, which had not yet been dated and attested, was returned to the President by the Acting Secretary of State on this date, Gardner having declined a recess appointment.
[14]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate; did not serve under this appointment.

[1]Each of the officers listed in this table was commissioned simply as an Assistant Secretary of State, but since 20 Dec. 1944 each Assistant Secretary has been given an area or functional designation by administrative action. From 26 May 1949 to 5 Aug. 1955 there was legislative authority to designate two of the Assistant Secretaries as Deputy Under Secretaries of State.
[2]Continued to serve under commission dated 31 Jan. 1941; designation as Assistant Secretary for Congressional Relations and International Conferences was effective 20 Dec. 1944.
[3]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate; recommissioned following Senate confirmation of his nomination.
[4]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate.
[5]Commissioned during a recess of the Senate; declined appointment.
[6]A nomination of 28 Aug. 1959 was not confirmed by the Senate.
[7]A personnel action assigned Mann to the position of Assistant Secretary for Inter-American Affairs effective 7 Aug. 1960, but this date was probably an error for 28 Aug. 1960.
[8]Did not take oath of office under this appointment.
[9]Not commissioned; nomination withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it.
[10]An earlier nomination of 14 Dec. 1973 was not acted upon by the Senate.
[11]Although each of the other Assistant Secretaries was commissioned merely as "an Assistant Secretary of State" and then given a functional designation by administrative action, Dr. Ray, in the light of the legislation which created her position, was commissioned "an Assistant Secretary of State for Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs." The title has been given in full in all subsequent commissions to this office.
[12]Continued to serve also as Ambassador at Large (see Appendix B).
[13]Position abolished and functions transferred to the International Communications Agency.
[14]This title was given in full in the individual's commission.

ALPHABETICAL LIST

Note.-- This list is intended merely as a guide to the information contained in the body of the volume and Appendices A-D; it does not include positions outside the scope of the volume. If a position is shown in square brackets, the individual named, although nominated and/or commissioned, either did not take office or was not formally received by the host government. When an individual held more than one consecutive commission to the same country, the name of the country is not repeated. Such titles as "Assistant SecState" are not repeated in cases of consecutive commissions. Dates in parentheses are years of birth and death. Asterisks identify career officers as defined in the introduction to this volume.
